Dear Mary,

Due to an extreme emptiness on this page I've decided to write and write and write 'cause I believe a friend should always express her friendship.
This humble, home-spun, and modest girl wishes you money, more money and even more money (so that when you'll become famous you'll give it to me 'cause I'm just humble homespun and modest and also poor, poor, poor.)
of songs for your plays just come to this humble + poor girl and I'll teach you to sing Really, though, may God always

 Changing, running, racing to be ahead, stay ahead.
 Its students — its growing, surging population —
 Living, laughing, learning in lieu of tomorrow's dawn.
 Fling your colors high — ever higher,
 Searching for a rainbow's treasure.
 Education is gold making a poor man rich and Light crumbling the shadows.

 Smooth-diving, hard-blocking, fast-dribbling;
 Sportsman mettle, sternly wrought,

On Proviso, On Proviso . . .

MONSTER GOOFS, that is IBM machine mistakes, are rapidly cleared and corrected by office secretaries pathways, up the rungs of higher education.

The long dog days of August continued through September,
 But long leisure hours rapidly ended.
 Fortified with notebooks, pencils, 'n paper,
 Old and new Provisoites started off the year of '62.
 Number games of programs, rooms, and combinations
 Caused confusions and frustrations.
 Yet, hungry frosh needed neither Blue Books nor Big Sisters
 To locate aromatic barbecues.
 New places: chemistry labs and Madison entrances
 New faces: freshman, transfer, and teacher
 New paces: short homerooms, ID's, and library procedures
 Soon mingled and mottled upperclassmen.
 The IBM monster produced attendance lists, program cards,
 And tragedy when wires crossed or shorted.
 Scheduling bewildered boys for PE classes in the Upper Gym.
 Sun-scorched sidewalks jammed
 As students raced to catch a bus, then slowly walked home.
 The tower clock watched . . . heard . . . and felt it all.
 As it ticked the time of another year,
 Proviso moved onward . . .

WISTFUL HESITANCE is the product of reluctance times eagerness.

STUDIO APPOINTMENTS, proofs, and payments produced portraits.

Studies Provoke Brains; Students Revoke Rains

Bright leaf sails swirled by strong currents
 Pulled up anchors, cruised, and drifted from autumn trees.
 Rain torrents dampened the rus'ling crispness of the leaves,
 But not the cheering energy of football spectators.
 Muddled players mauled their opponents
 With force-packed plays down the center of the field.
 Pig-skin carriers and jersey-skin tacklers hit their marks
 To rank Proviso second in the Suburban League.
 Girls' League sweetened study humdrums
 With spiced nursery rhymes and a fractured fairy tale
 At the ice cream social, "Sugar 'n Spice."
 Salmon-colored cards and formal studio letters scheduled
 Activity pictures and student individuals.
 Wallet photos, exchanged in halls, on buses, and in classes
 Kept close friends remembered and teachers distempered.
 Class standings—both scholastic and character—
 Achieved by students, rated by teachers, and Computed by the IBM, selected the new NHS members.
 October spirits of spooks and goblins haunted
 Memorial Hall at the GAA party
 And neighborhood homes for "Good Ghost" contributions.

PUDDLE-JUMPING was an art when downpours drenched Provisoites.

BOARDING THE GRAVY TRAIN every noon, hungry students wait on tangled, narrow-gauge tracks to purchase tickets for the "milk-malt" express.

MELODIES AND MUMS put the "Finishing Touches" on Homecoming festivities, sponsored by Student Council, as "animosities" of the Evanston game

Social Room Has New Twist; Hair Styles Bubble, Then Flip

Double, double toil and trouble.
Combs rat, and chewing gums bubble.
Important national fads of fashions, foods, and fun
Blended old East traditions with new ones.
Nightly pin-ups with brush, foam, and plastic rollers
Creased scalps and decreased sleep,
Yet formed a sound basis for beginning bubbles.
Ratting techniques required practiced skill and precious time
To tame bouffant, high-style tresses.
Hungry Provisoites, typical pitless teenagers,
Satisfied their after-school appetites with endless snacks.
They stopped at Al's, at Maytown's or in the Huddle
To consume malts, "moo juice," and mounds of French fries
Caught in salt showers and catsup puddles.
Pizza dates after games, plays, and fun nites
Rated companions of Pepsi's and shakes.
Energetic, educated feet ate up shoe leather,
Smoothed the Social Room varnish and gymnasium polish
Doing the Twist, the Bristol Stomp, and the Mashed Potato.
Rhythmed, co-coordinated dancers exhibited and taught
Twisting steps and variations to eager pupils.
Administration regulations of dances yoyoed,
But childhood playthings were unmistakably vetoed.
Spring hair styles flipped to burst the bubble and Gave a new breezy air of non-conformity
To those who were both daring and winter-dreary.
Timely changes only colored traditional Proviso paces.
Convenience sanctioned community lockers,
But confusion resulted from too many crowding lodgers.
Seniors boasted special rites:
Dressing in blue bows and blue clothes during Bow Week,
Sitting in the alcove at noon, and
Contracting an extra-strong case of book fever in the spring.

AHHHHH—A woman's coiffure is her crown.

PUSH BUTTON MUSIC catered to early risers and speedy lunch-eaters.

DOUBLE, DOUBLE toil and trouble—students found both in chem labs.

TWO HEADS are better than one to sip 'n slurp sodas at Maytown's.

East Dads 'n Dollars

Innovations, renovations, and adaptations
 Pushed Proviso onward and upward to keep up-to-date.
 Building funds financed improved classroom facilities and Experimentation fixtures for future scientists.
 Although it took the lead,
 The science department was not the only revamped area.
 Revision came throughout East in new methods, machines.
 However, the automotive age couldn't unemploy
 The subtle message of the fairy-tale-like play, Mrs. McThing.
 Material riches faded, demotivated by its living love.
 Student Council spirited the brotherly love of Provisoites
 With the drive for Rankin Cove and Killian schools,
 Helping them—in clothing, in financing, and in believing.
 Filial love promoted special dates
 For "Dapper Daddies," the League's dad 'n daughter dinner.
 Recalling flapper dresses, raccoon coats, Model T's,
 Dads brushed up on and wore out on Charleston steps.

WITH TOWELS, RAZORS in hand, Key Club butchers both songs and customers.

Reminisce, Recall, Renovate at Proviso

SCIENTIFIC AMERICA has reduced even human dads into outlined points of discussion—or so the girls at the Girls' League "Dapper Daddies" said.

BUNGLED TRAFFIC, bundled students battled snow mounds, ice sheets, and zero winds when rain torrents transformed first to flurries then to furies.

Have lots of fun
Have lots of fun
Have lots of fun*

Rain, nor sleet, nor snow... bound Proviso's daily pace.
White flake flurries whirled into sheeted furies
As winter weekends weathered SNOWS.
Driveways, streets, and walks packed and rutted
To decrease, but not quite cease traveling progress.
Tinsel-trimmed, Christmas-seasoned love
Pumped in hearts and holiday merry-go-rounds.
Sweetie Pie and her helpers collected, clothed, and cartoned
TOYS for Cook County Hospital girls and boys.
Council's warm thoughts sent Rankin Cove warm clothes.
"Christmas Belles" peeled laughter and masking tape
While dressing the tree and producing their own
Snow storm in the Social Room.
"Fantasy in White" drifted bouffant skirts inside and Miniature mountains, glass streets, and night mists outside,
During the junior class "snow" ball.
Tea tenders quickly lightened heavy-laden tables at
A faculty buffet hosted by home economics girls.
The silver service sparkled, the fireplace glowed, and Tree trinkets played catch with light beams as "Precious Angels" recalled season's greetings and meanings.
Hands, hearts, and hopes mewed together in faith.
And Christmas peace burned . . .

DANCIN' IN A WINTER WONDERLAND, upper classmen exchanged jokes, dance steps, sometimes "steadies."

Tense moments of up and down electrified the intercom,
And hourly bulletin reports kept Provisoites posted.

Spring arrived at last!
 As skunk cabbages pushed their moist brows upward
 Escaping the clutches of dead brown hands,
 The year named '62 moved onward.
 Like the fresh simplicity and beauty of the season itself
 Noah colloquially depicted the ancient story of the Deluge,
 The timely message of a precious gift — an abiding faith.
 One of Girls' League's most favorite blossoms,
 "Showers of Flowers," brought together
 Mothers and daughters, carnations and rose buds, and Oodles of hats just in time for Easter.
 Awaiting both the overdue season and vacation,
 The impatience of Provisoites grew, triggering trouble.
 Buzz . . . Buzz . . . Buzz . . . As the air raid buzzer sounded,
 Restless students headed for the outdoors.
 Counting the weeks, days, and hours until graduation,
 Seniors collected strings of pins, clips (one for each day),
 While '63 ring orders began a new countdown.
 Shopping sprees introduced ruffles and intern blouses.
 Button mechanics denoted whether purchasers were Ben Casey or Doctor Kildare fans.

STUDY HALL DOLDRUMS increase inversely to remaining school days.

Rivaled dance numbers and traditional songs
Of May class parties and office installations.

It was the start of new pages — personal and Proviso:
New responsibilities for new hands and
New goals for older minds.

And then, too, it was the end...

The end of four years of books, tests, and teachers,
The end of admit slips, interviews, and blue passes.
The end of carefree days, memories and friendships.
Opening the neat package of the prom, class day, and

Seniors found not only the end, but also the beginning.

Dr. Knoepfel Plans

Although the duties of the superintendent vary from year to year, as chief administrator for the Board of Education, Dr. Knoepfel found it his main responsibility to supervise and direct the operation of the entire school plant.

His general administrative task was to organize and conduct the activities of East and West high schools in accordance with the policies, rules, and regulations of the Board of Education. Both schools functioned under a special staff organizational program. Such a system provided a "division of labor" whereby the problems of administration were delegated to appropriate individuals.

Dr. Knoepfel received his bachelor's degree from Carthage College, his master's degree from the State University of Iowa, and in 1959, his alma mater, Carthage College, conferred upon him an honorary Doctorate of Laws. He also studied at Columbia and Harvard universities. His advanced degree was earned in the field of school administration.

Last summer, Harvard University invited Dr. Knoepfel to attend the Advanced Administration Institute sponsored by its Graduate School of Education. Only fifty administrators from the entire nation were selected for such an honor.

MRS. ZOCHERT, Dr. Knoepfel's private secretary, keeps his busy schedule untangled and memos recorded.

DR. KNOEPFEL, East-West administrative coordinator, pauses before starting an eventful, unpredictable day.

president; Mr. Robert Young; Mr. Fred Meyer; and Dr. Ralph Barton, approves all school measures and considers proposals for expansion.

MRS. HATTIE HAUPT, secretary of the Board of Education, records bills and departmental reports for Mr. Ralph Gust, board president.

While keeping up with all of its many responsibilities, East's Board of Education fulfilled its remodeling plans for this year. Realizing the need for more and better-equipped chemistry laboratories, the board initiated building plans last summer. Modernization, completed by September, allowed students to reap the full benefits of the new facilities.

The renovation of the school entrances facing Madison Street constituted another of the school board's finished projects. The wooden stairwells at these entrances were removed and replaced by safer, more modern ones.

To keep informed on the latest advancements in school administration, three of the board's members attended a special convention in Toronto last summer. The delegates returned with many suggestions, including several for the improvement of school management.

The board realized that more advanced facilities would be needed to maintain Proviso East's high standards. Outlined for the coming years is another program for the construction of new stairwells throughout the rest of the building and for the complete revamping of the school auditorium.

Dr. Holt Sets Pace

Beginning each day by pressing the small metallic button of the school intercom, Mr. Holt assumed one of his many tasks as assistant superintendent and as principal at East. Whether representing the administration at banquets, games, and assemblies, or establishing school policies, Mr. Holt was always busy.

As a student, Mr. Holt received his Bachelor of Science degree from Southeast Missouri State College. He also attended the University of Illinois where he earned his Master of Science and Doctor of Philosophy degrees. Mr. Holt came to Proviso East in 1956 and has served for six years as principal and administrative assistant.

Traveling to Atlantic City last winter while the rest of the school weathered icy winds, Mr. Holt took part in an experiment conducted by the American Association of School Administrators. He, along with the assistant superintendent of Akron, Ohio, and the superintendent of Hilo, Hawaii, discussed school testing programs. This panel was broadcast on closed circuit television to 5,000 hotel rooms.

This summer Mr. Holt is planning to teach a workshop course in school administration. This will enable him to combine two of his main interests, teaching and traveling. In the future, he would like to pursue this arrangement, journeying in New England and the West.

Having two daughters and a lovely wife, Mr. Holt's chief non-school interest is girls. Though only in grade school, his oldest daughter is already looking toward college. For a hobby, his spare time is occupied by reading political science.

Discussing students, Mr. Holt stated that Proviso East possessed an unusual number of competent, capable ones.

HEADACHES OF PRINCIPAL'S JOB fail to dim genial smile of Dr. Charles C. Holt.

As Assistants Attend to Numerous Details

With smiling efficiency, Miss Virginia Terhune carried out her many and varied duties as administrative assistant. Enrollment and programming, assembly supervision, formation of student permanent records, and preparation of the morning bulletin comprised but a few of the chores that Miss Terhune handled daily at East.

College-bound Provisoites relied on Miss Terhune's advice in filing admission and scholarship applications.

Having obtained her BA at Illinois College in Jacksonville, Miss Terhune earned her Master's degree in mathematics at the University of Michigan. She advanced her education by doing additional graduate study at the Universities of Indiana and Illinois.

Serving as vice-president of the Illinois Association of College Admissions Counselors, Miss Terhune enlarged her qualifications as administrative assistant. Moreover, she also participated in an extensive study of standardization of permanent records and electronic transcript computation.

New administrator of the Proviso East Night School, Mr. John F. Widergren directed classes varying from English for immigrants to Family Swim. He supplemented the established night school curriculum with several new courses and made plans to offer specialized studies in Judo and Civil Defense. An industrial training program also numbered high among his future objectives.

This past year, Mr. Widergren worked to increase the number of evening classes offering high school credit. By taking advantage of these courses many adults, who failed to complete high school, earned their diplomas.

In another capacity, Mr. Widergren scheduled classes for the summer session. He included tentative plans for integrating more credit subjects into the summer curriculum.

Mr. Widergren obtained his BA at Beloit College, Wisconsin. He furthered his education by earning his MA at the State University of Iowa. During the summers, he studies for his Doctorate in Philosophy at the Wyoming University.

MISS VIRGINIA TERHUNE, administrative assistant, consults her "trusty" calendar many times to keep East moving on schedule.

MR. JOHN WIDERGREN, administrative assistant, assumes his new job of planning for summer and night school curricula.

MAIN OFFICE SECRETARIES—Mrs. Beatrice Puryear, Main Office secretary; Mrs. Elvera Pearson, secretary to Miss Terhune; Mrs. Joan Keating, mimeograph operator; Mrs. Donna Bourbonnais, Main Office secretary and key punch operator; Mrs. Winifred Jones, secretary to Mr. Holt; Mrs. Myrtle Hagen, switch board operator; and Miss Mildred Rezabek, office coordinator.

Dean, Testing Coordinator, Secretaries

Main office secretaries maintained the meticulous order of the school records. Mrs. Rezabek, director of the staff, supervised the office's activities.

The six women under her direction performed their various tasks, including college transcripts, enrollment, work permits, mimeographing, and student eligibility for sports.

Disciplinary measures and student conduct vitally concerned Dr. Leslie Remley, Dean of Students. He made final decisions pertaining to student problems referred to him by teachers and counselors.

An average of 25 to 30 students per day visited Dr. Remley's office which was re-established this year in Room 37.

Dr. Remley has served Proviso East for 31 years. He began his Proviso career as a science teacher and a football and basketball coach. In 1957, he assumed his position as Dean of Students.

At Wabash College, Dr. Remley attained his Bachelor's degree. He secured his PhD at the State University of Iowa.

Striving for the betterment of East's academic curriculum, Mr. Edward Bos constantly revised the school's testing program. Such changes included expansion of freshmen and junior testing and discontinuance of the NEDT and PSAT exams. He supervised the all-school testing in October. This job included tabulation and distribution of results to students and preparation of a roster of scores for teachers.

Mr. Bos graduated from Highlands University in New Mexico. He received his MA from the University of Chicago.

Back School Work with Office Work

Straining under a new accounting system, five business office secretaries labored this year to balance the budget of Proviso East. These secretaries distributed the payroll and managed the mechanical end of two bond issue elections. In addition, they collected the student rental and activity fees. These were then assigned to the appropriate departments and organizations.

Book room secretary, Mrs. Agnes Smith, issued books to the teachers. At the close of school, she checked all of the books, recording all, lost or no longer usable.

Departmental secretaries added their services to complete the efficiency of the various departments. They cut stencils for tests, mimeographed study units, and filed the term papers. Versatility distinguishes these women because any department or office may request their aid at any time.

Cafeteria Appeals,

Feeding ever-hungry Proviso challenged the imagination and originality of Mrs. Dorothy Accardi, cafeteria manager and dietitian. However, she and her staff proved equal to the task of providing food for countless hearty appetites. Appealing, nourishing lunches testified to the success of Mrs. Accardi's good plans and good cooks.

A small, hard-working army, the maintenance staff, labored to keep order in the daily confusion of school life. Mr. Richard Werner, director of buildings and grounds, supervised the staff. Besides aiding with stage productions, these men kept up a clean, warm, well-lighted Proviso East.

FACULTY SNATCHES TIME to relax and catch up on the news.

Tests Rank Faculty

Paper-laden East faculty braved the "Battle of '62." Unlike student beliefs, they exhibit human qualities. Their moods yoyoed, flying on pink clouds, and sinking into blue dazes. Like students, teachers strained under homework labors, fell to TV temptations, and sometimes overslept on school mornings. They made mistakes; lost their keys, tempers, and assignment books; and were sometimes corrected by their superiors. If they lost their patience only occasionally — it's still a good record.

Like students, teacher got together over the weekends, talked too long on the telephone, and had parties. Cold mornings whistled through their overcoats and froze their automobiles in still defiance. Human fallacies showed themselves in even the most perfecting teacher. A forgotten library book ran overdue, billfolds opened empty, and new-found or favorite jokes flopped. Faculty members are not infallible machines, but working members of the human race.

Teaching is but a part of the demand on East faculty. Sponsoring, advising, chaperoning, officiating, coaching, and directing taxed their job lists. Doors of their rooms, minds, and hearts opened to students seeking aid. Through daily association, they became the headquarters for questions about Franklin's pragmatic-self, about the specialty of a certain college, and about the boy next door.

Surging onward, East added 25 new teachers, including two former Proviso graduates. The body of 164 successfully experimented with team teaching in the English, science, and social studies departments; with paperback book editions to act as or supplement texts where desired; and with new visual aid equipment to exemplify and stress important points.

BEFORE-SCHOOL COFFEE breaks give East's faculty that "wake-up refresher" and time to talk with one another before morning classes begin.

As keys unlocked art department lockers, so art students unlocked depths of inner feeling, culture, and genius. The shiny metal keys found their ways into paint bottles and wash basins, pried open jars, and persistently got lost.

Emphasizing good taste and discriminate judgment, the art department strived to improve technical skills and creative intuition. A range of eight different courses developed proficiency in drawing, painting, designing, sculpturing, enameling, lettering, rug hooking, jewelry making, ceramics, stitchery, and graphic arts. Students achieved individuality through liberalism in doing and in selection.

Humanities, a study of the evolution of art, music, and philosophy, broadened the cultural experience and appreciation of pupils. Instituted in 1960, its popularity grew to double its enrollment this year.

Teachers used a new approach in the commercial design and humanities courses, stressing the practical knowledge to be gained in them. Impressed by the importance of art in every-day life, young connoisseurs visited galleries, museums, and Art Institute. Late spring found an abundance of their works displayed in the Social Room for noontime viewing. This spring exhibit completed the year's art showings.

STUDYING THEIR CANVASSES intently, art students attempt to create designs of two completely different aspects—still life and abstract art.

Attracting more students than any other department, the Commercial Department boasted that approximately seventy-five per cent of students at Proviso East have taken at least one course in Commercial Education. The college-bound student has often included such useful electives as typing and stenography in his program to increase his efficiency.

Under the direction of Mr. Harvey Welsh, the Commercial Department furnished Proviso students with the advantage of the latest IBM electronic machines and devices. Twelve new electric typewriters arrived at East in the middle of this year. Other equipment included two electric voice transcribers, two overhead projectors, two rotary calculators, and several late model dictaphones which the department rented. By using the machines which he will encounter in his later occupation, the business student acquired an active, practical education.

This year, the Commercial Department presented several courses that most schools did not offer. The classes in Calculating Machines and Office Practice were nearly unique to Proviso. The Vocational Retailing curriculum benefitted many Provisoites but was not generally offered in other high schools.

The East Commercial Department rendered another service to Proviso students by maintaining the School Store. Members of Future Business Leaders of America, under the direction of Mr. Robert Stickler, operated the store.

Counselors Face Flood of Advice Seekers

Directing East's traffic of minds and manners constituted the job of Proviso counselors. To do this more efficiently, the department added Vocational Counselors, specializing in information about post-graduate education.

During a student's four years at Proviso, counselors tried to delve into problems characteristic of each particular age group. Hence freshmen year dealt with orientation and enrollment, sophomore year with personal problems, and junior and senior years with college and vocational preparations. Upperclassmen explored the "hows 'n whys" of college and scholarship applications; while senior year particularly illuminated the obligations and problems of marriage and adult life.

Through the help of Occupational Conferences, students gained an opportunity to confer with professionals in specific fields of work and education, thereby crystalizing their ideas on life-goals.

Among their other tasks, counselors found time to attend such meetings as the Counselor-Freshman Conference. There each counselor got a resume of college life from a former Proviso pupil. This pupil also expressed his suggestions on how school techniques might be changed to suit better adjustment to college life. Proviso counselors, however, were not always listeners. They, too, were very popular speakers. Holding weekly sessions with all students, they maintained a wholesome familiarity with the student body. Provisoites frequently sought and welcomed their counselors' advice.

The counseling department also co-ordinated the college and university days on November 28 and December 6. College and university representatives interviewed interested Provisoites to answer questions concerning higher education.

English Teachers Examine New Methods

MAKING USE OF NEWLY purchased equipment, Freshman English students watch Vu-Graph screen for key phrases taken from literature studies.

Working under the skilled eyes of its new head, Mr. Richard L. Daniels, the English department witnessed many important changes in teaching methods this year.

The department extended its use of paperback editions of textbooks and required reading, allowing students to take notes in these books, impossible under the previous rental system. Students experienced programmed textbook work and paperback literature units. The department also broadened its accelerated program for superior students.

Another advancement in classroom procedure involved team teaching; that is, teachers combined classes into large and small groups for more thorough instruction. This teamwork was practiced chiefly in Public Speaking classes.

This year the department increased its use of mechanical aids by acquiring two new tape recorders, two Vu-Graphs, and other audio-visual aids.

By maintaining the progressive direction of East's English department, Mr. Daniels felt that despite the 160-student load per teacher, "The department is keeping aware of innovations and does not believe in change for change's sake, but in change for the sake of Proviso's boys and girls."

Library Team to Meet Growing Needs

Overflowing with two things, books and students, East's library enlarged its services by extending its after-school hours to five p.m. One could hear the steady hum of activity coming from students and teachers drawing upon the knowledge contained in the 25,000 books, 125 periodicals, 6 newspapers, and 7 indexes available to them.

Three trained librarians teamed with sixty library pages to carry on the official business of this department. Their activities included maintaining a certain degree of peace and quiet in their realm, checking attendance during class hours, and knowing the whereabouts of every book owned by the library. Three secretaries worked to produce, among other things, new index cards to keep up with the constantly growing number of books.

In this atmosphere of wisdom, devotees of foreign language, English, and social science listened to more than 400 informative tapes and records. Students used these recordings in nine "listening posts" found in the balcony.

WITH AN EYE on the future, Home Economics students experiment with a new chafing dish. Spices add zest and new flavors to recipes.

"A woman's work is never done." This familiar proverb stated the major job of East's Home Economics students. Realizing the importance of homemaking as America's "biggest business", the Home Economics Department spent much time and money in keeping courses up-to-date and classrooms well-equipped. Attending informative conventions, studying recent publications, and exchanging ideas with other experts, the department teachers kept well informed and ready to maintain Proviso's high standards.

With a choice of two years of foods or clothing, and one semester of Family Living, Home Planning, or Home Decoration, Proviso's girls learned the basic "do's 'n don't's" of cooking, sewing, and home management. Fine points on flower arrangement, nutrition, poise, party-planning, budgeting, and clothes choosing constituted a few of the "extras" presented in these classes.

As much of a homemaker's work involves the maintenance and handling of new machines and products, the department purchased modern equipment for students' practice. Latest additions to the department included articles from the size of a new chafing dish to a large, modern freezer.

When quizzed about their future plans, the Home Economics teachers happily announced two current projects—a one year homemaking course for college-bound girls and a general combination cooking-clothing course for freshmen. Indeed, new plans, equipment testified to this department's quality.

in Industrial Arts

"In this age of automation, people with the knowledge and ability to operate and repair complicated machinery are greatly needed," explained Mr. Carl Bergstrom, chairman of East's Industrial Arts Department. "Industrial Arts instruction aims to fulfill this urgent need."

Boasting an extensive industrial arts program, Proviso East offered many students — both boys and girls — specialized training in such fields as woodworking, metallurgy, printing, electricity, auto mechanics and drafting.

With up-to-date equipment like the new Heidelberg Chief Offset Press, students gained training invaluable to tomorrow's skilled industrial workers and home do-it-yourselfers. The use of overhead projectors in the department's drafting classes constituted another educational advancement.

To keep aware of changes in industry, the department's twelve instructors joined the Metropolitan Round Table. This group, composed of Chicago-land industrial arts teachers, visited many different industries during the school year that they might become familiar with industrial advances.

AN INNOVATION in East's academic offerings, the Listening Laboratory aids pupils by increasing their fluency at spoken languages.

Have you ever conjugated a noun, or is it a verb? Problems such as this frequently confronted Proviso's language students. Despite these eternal difficulties, enrollment in foreign languages increased by 238.

Under Miss Frances Gospill's direction, the Language Department introduced third year Russian and fourth year German. A well-qualified staff of ten taught East's classes in Latin, Spanish, French, German, and Russian.

The department enhanced its program with special educational films, such as those with sound tracks in Spanish. In addition, the newly installed Language Laboratory purchased more tapes to supplement regular classroom drills.

Muster Math Students' Minds, Muscles

All triangles are isosceles!? This supposed mathematical paradox perplexed Proviso's student mathematicians. Throughout the year, algebra, geometry, trigonometry, and calculus classes tackled similar challenges. Mastery of the hyperbola, parallelogram,  $\cos A$ , derivative of the function of  $x$ , and concavity intrigued these students.

Improving its teaching methods, the math department experimented with new techniques. Junior honors students studied a special course, compiling algebra II, trigonometry, and college algebra into one year's work. This advanced procedure enabled these students to apply for college credit in these subjects.

Math personnel constantly sought up-to-date information to maintain modern teaching standards. Toward this endeavor, a representative from Proviso's mathematics staff attended the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics Convention in San Francisco last spring. This annual meeting brought together a nation-wide array of especially capable math teachers for an exchange of ideas.

Thinking creatively was a major goal in the math department of '62. Believing that mathematical thinking eliminates many everyday problems, the department broadened its curriculum. Courses placed their emphasis on the "why" as opposed to the "how" of math. Daily exercises encouraged the students to discover new concepts for themselves. By continually requiring individual thought, the mathematics department effectively prepared Provisoites for their futures.

Practice, rehearse, perform! Proviso's instrumental and choral organizations frequently repeated this sequence of hard work. Concerts, parades, football game maneuvers, assembly programs, and contests highlighted the Music Department's activities this year.

Provisoites participated in Choir, in Concert Orchestra, and in the Concert and Frosh Soph bands. Students also sang in three boys' choruses and in one girls' chorus.

While these groups played and sang music, the Music Appreciation class furthered their enjoyments of music through study of its structure.

In addition, eleven majorettes and the newly established minorette corp worked under Mrs. Kay Fulton's direction. These girls performed precision drills at parades, football games, the Band Potluck, and the All-School Variety Show.

JFK's PF Program Plagues Students

"Oh, my aching . . .!" With more groans than pains, students echoed reluctant support of President Kennedy's physical fitness program. Heeding his call for increased emphasis on physical education, East's joint department added 15 minutes of warm-up exercises and calisthenics to each class. Special endurance testing, particularly in freshman classes, constituted another part of this program. Recent results of these exams showed that Proviso's frosh boys exceeded the national norm by 13 per cent. New equipment such as the Stamm Gym in the girls' division composed the rest of the latest departmental innovations.

Possessing a unique "tailor-made" plan for physical education, Proviso's department designed classes for all students according to individual limits of physical ability. Special classes, as seventh period football and track for boys and choreography and advanced swimming for girls, challenged gifted athletes. Extra courses in health, first aid, and driver training supplemented regular gym class activity.

Science Department

Expansion and contraction were practiced at East not only as basic principles of science, but also as the basic principle of the physics and the newly remodeled chemistry rooms. In both of the departments folding walls provided a combination of laboratory and lecture areas for multiple class use. Besides increasing in enrollment and in working area, the department also increased in its use of the library by bringing truck loads of current and pertinent books from the stacks into the classrooms.

Searching for knowledge through inductive experimentation and deductive reasoning, Provisoites prepared for college. Surveys showed that 56.7 per cent of all biology students plan to go to college, 82.7 per cent of all chemistry students, and 97.1 per cent of all physics students.

Science is always moving onward and so is Proviso. On the basis of present needs and new findings in science, East teachers made a critical analysis of courses and course material. They also considered possible uses for programmed teaching material as either lectures or lecture supplements.

Social Studies Face Two-year Overhaul

Time is the essence for man; he lags behind his own scientific and technological advancement. This apt observation provided the impetus for this year's changes in the Social Studies Department.

To evaluate present offerings and determine new possibilities, the staff instituted a general two-year study of their department. This required careful analysis of each course according to present educational demands. New textbooks, new methods, and new purposes were explored. A better text for the sociology classes was purchased.

The experimental interdisciplinary course, a synthesis of history, the social and political sciences, served as a testing ground for many new ideas. One of the methods tried involved the use of team teaching. Here teachers expert in particular fields lectured on their specialties.

Under Miss West, chairman, a staff of twelve sparked departmental changes. Teaching students in fifteen different subjects, they helped prepare them for tomorrow's problems.

RULING THEIR PALACE of pills and powders, the school nurses gave fairy godmother-like attention and care to each Provisoite's health.

Supplementing the academic and vocational curricula, Proviso entered specialized fields of education.

The Speech and Hearing Clinic, established in 1944, offered auditory training and speech therapy. Mr. Charles E. Moore, vice-president of the Illinois Speech and Hearing Association, directed the clinic's activities.

The Reading Improvement Center, in Room 238, encouraged students to increase their reading speed, comprehension, vocabulary, and pronunciation. In these efforts, Miss Dorothy Cherrington instructed about 125 students daily.

In another phase of specialization, Mr. Charles E. Jackson and Mr. J. C. Bower worked with special education classes in preparation for homogeneous grouping.

The health of Proviso's student body was of vital concern to the school nurses, Mrs. Florence Akers and Mrs. Ethel Halloran. In Room 82, they maintained a ready supply of bandages and gauze for all emergencies.

The nurses-to-be in Proviso's newly established School of Practical Nursing received intensive theory training and clinical experience in three hospitals. Their studies included pediatrics, surgery, orthopedics, long-term illness, and obstetrics. Miss Dagny Anderson, director of the nursing curriculum, wrote several procedure manuals and handbooks.

"I will turn you into a cuspidor if you send me home!" "It's the boss . . . his cough's got personality!" Mrs. Mc-Thing, a side-tickling comedy by Miss Elizabeth Little's thespians, produced the audience-pleasing fall school play.

Hilarious characters and impossible situations were molded into a whimsical drama. A witch with the nasty habit of replacing human beings with "sticks," substituted two of her black-magic contrivances for a wealthy society matron and her son. The displaced socialites were forced to find work and room in Shantyland Pool Hall ruled by the local mobster, Poison Eddie Schellenbach. Only "little white rose" Mimi, the witch's daughter, could squelch resulting conflicts.

Controversy and originality hi-lighted the spring play, Noah. A miracle play depicting the biblical story of the forty-day flood, Noah was written by Andre Obey for the common people of medieval England. A cast of seventeen, under the direction of Mr. William Waack, worked months to prepare the drama for contest and school performances.

A study of the opposing forces of infidelity and steadfastness, Noah became perhaps the most moving production presented on the East stage. The tale spun around the faithlessness of Noah's son, who doubted his father's divine guidance throughout the deluge. Noah's family, also losing their paternal respect and faith in God, awoke only when a dove brought a sign from heaven. In this presentation, East audiences not only gained good entertainment but also cultural appreciation of pre-Shakespearean theatre.

Noah was also unique in the props and special effects area. Lighting to accent the mood of a scene and compliment costumes worn by student actors constituted the only props used. Such simplicity of sets was valuable in emphasizing the play's moral message and practical in being easily transported.

Thank you for the best of luck next year Mark Thackaberry

'The Lesson' Wins State Play Competition

Promoting richer appreciation of theatrical arts, Troupe 2090 of the National Thespian Society encouraged Provisoites to contribute to school dramatics. As performers or committee workers, students worked toward society membership. Directed by Miss Elizabeth Little and Mr. William Waack, 26 active members and an equal number of apprentices produced all-school dramas, one-act plays for monthly Thespian meetings, and special sketches for local civic groups such as the PTA.

In 1961 the organization sponsored the contest play, The Lesson, by Eugene Ionesco, which won first place in Illinois state competition. Now in its second year, East's honor-winning chapter prepared another drama, Noah, for contest exhibition. Busy members also traveled to Indiana University for the Annual National Thespian Association Convention.

Lensmen, Palette, Chisel Dabble in Arts

Mulberry bushes made from tin plates? Works ranging from such contemporary sculpture to traditional paintings lined the walls and filled the showcases which Palette and Chisellers viewed on club excursions. Through club trips, projects, workshops, and bi-monthly meetings, thirteen Provisoites lived and learned art. Besides learning and appreciating, members applied their talents to produce stage sets for the school plays, the variety show, and class day. They also conducted an art show to display East's finest products.

Palette and Chisel's membership was screened from the Art Department's highest ranking student artists. Mr. Ed Jaunsen led the selected students in their artistic adventures.

Composition . . . sharpness . . . contrast . . . Perfection of these basic photographic components constituted the hardest job facing East's energetic lensmen. Under the guidance of Mr. Fred Keil, seventeen camera bugs improved and practiced their knowledge of good picture make-up and the proper care and use of photographic equipment.

While members weren't snapping pictures, they participated in informative meetings, entered prized shots in school contests, and attended photographic conventions. Projected plans for the club also included the possibility of organizing contests with neighboring high schools. Such competition gives promise of better student photography in the future.

Squeezing information out of every available source, Proviso debaters prepared for the debate season. Tireless searching yielded background material, statistics, and quotes giving the pros and cons of this year's debate topic, federal aid to secondary and elementary education.

Directed by Mr. Clay Willmington and Miss Yolanda Unakis, four-man squads—two negative and two affirmative—competed in weekly forensic meets. Every such meet constituted another step toward the sectional tournament and finally the state championship tournament in Champaign.

Arguing the same question at each meet, debate teams were judged on their case, coherence, and clarity. The school winning the most debates in a tournament placed first, and the speaker accumulating the most individual speaker points for a meet won the much-prized speaker's award.

Last summer four debaters attended debating institutes at three colleges and universities. Larry Wick attended an institute at the University of Illinois. Harold Williamson and Joel Schick studied at Illinois State Normal University, and Rick Bryan traveled to Wake Forest College, North Carolina.

Area Tournaments Test Forensic Squad Ability

"Stand tall, shoulders back, and eyes ahead" could well have come from a physical education posture class, but these comments escaped from Room 214 during National Forensic League practice sessions. Mr. Clay Willmington and Miss Yolanda Unakis, co-Forensic Sponsors, knew that poise, posture, and diction counted equally in a meet; therefore, they concentrated much training in these fields.

Participating in all nine areas of competition—poetry reading, prose reading, original monologue, serious reading, humorous reading, radio speaking, extemporaneous speaking, after-dinner speaking, and original oratory—the Forensic Varsity team competed in several tournaments, including the "big one" at Peoria. The team took third place in the Proviso West tournament and won the Aurora West contest.

Members of the Forensic squads competed for membership in the National Forensic League as well as for contest honors. Individual speakers accumulated points per meet; upon reaching a score of twenty-five, they became league members..

Strains of Old Favorites, Popular Works

"Something old, something new . . ." This theme governed choir activities this year as the 95-voice choir led by Mr. Robert Davis wove old-favorites and popular selections into a libretto of fine music.

The traditional was hi-lighted in the annual Christmas Concert. Amidst a festive setting of stained-glass windows and poinsettias, choir members marched in the familiar candlelight processional and sang beloved carols. Later, the choir performed more old-favorites in their February show, "Songs America Sings." Emphasizing "something new," choir members joined other singers from West in a special fall festival held in the Proviso West Mall. In early May, they sang a finale to the year with a gay revue of popular stage hits.

Besides participating in four major concerts, the choir maintained a busy schedule of other affairs. Social activities included a Christmas party and a formal dance in the spring.

Choir members also lent their time and talent to provide entertainment for school clubs, local grade schools, and private groups. Selected singers performed at the All-State Music Festival and two members, Betty Wurm and Brian Smith, were invited to sing at the Music Educators' National Conference in March.

Trading class books for music sheets, choir members met daily during the third period. For this hour, they practiced numbers and prepared for their many engagements. To facilitate planning for social functions and concerts, the choir elected student officers and an executive committee. This group functioned as a "sounding board" for member ideas.

Special ensembles, under Mr. Royce Devick, composed another choir activity. Superior vocalists joined either the boys' octet, two mixed ensembles, or girls' sextet. These groups performed at local affairs and competed in choral contests.

Sing with Mitch

Do...Re...Me...Repeat! Practice and more practice became the theme song of this year's Boys' Chorus. Constantly exercising their tonsils on classical and modern selections, boys gained valuable experience and personal satisfaction. Directed by Mr. Robert Davis, the chorus spent three days a week preparing new numbers and rehearsing for their various public engagements.

Chorus members — freshmen, sophomores, and juniors — earned admittance to this group by participating in the spring tryouts. There, promising singers were chosen from the many applicants. Once in the chorus, boys gained training essential to more advanced work and gradually moved into the choir and special ensembles.

Wearing the traditional Proviso-blue sweaters and ties with white shirts, chorus members provided music for three special concerts held in December, February, and April. Besides entertaining at school assemblies and other functions, the busy boys also performed at local grammar schools. Such appearances helped interest new frosh in joining the groups.

Working under a baton in the hands of the new choral instructor, Mr. Royce Devick, the Girls' Chorus performed at the traditional concerts and school assemblies. Composed primarily of sophomores and juniors, the Girls' Chorus met regularly three times a week. They included in their daily repertoire many American folk songs and ballads, international Christmas carols, and popular, modern selections.

To fulfill their ultimate aim of becoming a member of the Choir, the girls practiced long and diligently. Through their patience and persistence, they not only achieved their goal, but also made their performances enjoyable to all.

Before coming to Proviso as the choral and special ensemble instructor, Mr. Devick had taught for twelve years in the community high schools of central Illinois. Then, as now, he constantly lived music. Besides coaching, organizing, and promoting aspiring Proviso students, he had been working on his doctorate of music at the State University of Iowa.

The May scholarship concert featured "Sound of Music" by Richard Rodgers and the first movement from Beethoven's "First Symphony." In November, the orchestra played "Blue Tango" and other background music for "Mrs. McThing."

In December, at the orchestra parents' Sunday musicale, a violin soloist and a string quartet presented selections.

Several orchestra members prepared and performed contest numbers for the district solo and ensemble competition in February. The orchestra also provided the musical setting for the April All-School Play.

Concluding the year's activities with commencement, the orchestra played the traditional "Pomp and Circumstance."

"One and ah, two and ah. . ." East's own Lawrence Welk, Mr. Irving Tallmadge led his 77-piece band in the year's repertoire of marches and concert music. In the fall, junior "champagne music-makers" performed in two football shows. The special homecoming maneuver, featuring a gay circus theme hi-lighted music from "Thunder and Blazes."

Led by the eleven-girl majorette corps, the band paraded on Bataan Day and on Memorial Day. They also entertained at Band Potluck, student assemblies, and April gym night.

Two major concerts crowned the year's band performances. The January concert, opening with "Amparito Roca," included "Polka Fugue," Strauss's "Der Rosencavalier" waltzes, "Allerseelen," and "American Rhapsody" by Hadyn Wood. Accompanied by the band, Mr. James Lienhard, violinist, played Massenet's "Meditation from Thais."

Music from "Fanny," "Rhapsody" by Rimsky Korsakov, "Sakuntala" by Goldmark, "Lohengrin," and Ponchielli's "Dance of the Hours" were among March concert selections.

Lapping coolness possessed Proviso mermaids almost as the sea lured Masfield in "Sea Fever." Compelled to swim, Nekton's forty members built precision, poise, and grace in lengthy practices of aquatic gymnastics.

New members, chosen at the beginning of the year, were carefully screened. Each applicant with a 3.0 grade average was interviewed and tested for aquatic ability.

Those who had already swum for a year as a Nekton member and participated in one of the club's swim shows received a sterling silver necklace with a diver-shaped pendant. Members also purchased special membership cards and Nekton stationery.

Regular pool practices and preparation for the annual water show took much club time. Yet, under the direction of Mrs. Bette Kucera, sponsor, these activities were supplemented by trips. In December, members traveled to Northwestern University for a swimming workshop and later to a clinic sponsored by International Academy of Aquatic Arts.

NEKTON OFFICERS: Linda Zentek, Stephanie Sarossy, Susan Akkeron, and Carole Moles.

Pageant Staff Wins Pacemaker Award

Attending conferences, accepting awards, and working under a new sponsor set this year's Pageant staff off on the busy pace that continued right up to the graduation issue.

The work to produce the first issue of the year began back in the summer before school started. It was at these early meetings that the newly picked staff met their new sponsor, Mr. Ronald Kozlowski, who recently received his Bachelor's degree in education from Illinois Normal University.

Soon after school started, four of the staff members traveled to the University of Illinois for the first press conference of the year. Next, at the NSPA conference at the Conrad Hilton Hotel in Chicago, Henry Wessel, editor-in-chief, accepted the Pacemaker award for the '60-'61 Pageant. Then in October, Pageant and Provi joined forces and played host to the Chicago Scholastic Press Guild here at Proviso.

Opening the Christmas season at Proviso, Pageant published a twenty-four page Christmas issue. Then, to round out the season, they held a holiday party for the past and present editors and staff members. Pageant finished the year with the annual "Publications Potluck" in the spring where this year's staff members announced their successors.

Also this year, reorganization of the editorial board sent the Pageant to press on Thursday nights and read the proofs on Tuesday nights. Co-literary editors completed the work of the separate literary and feature editors of last year. This year's editorial board also promoted Pageant's effort to serve Proviso East students better by publishing more "Letters to the Editor" than any of the past papers.

Provi Rates Highest

Confused organization or is it organized confusion? Beneath paper reams, eraser crumbs, and moldy french fries, the Provi staff wrote, re-wrote, and re-re-wrote copy. Measuring, counting, and figuring with picas and points rather than inches and feet, the staff worked to make each piece come out just right...or so they hoped.

Although all of the drawers and shelves were labeled clearly (?!!), something always seemed to be getting lost just when it was needed. The favorite hiding places for anything were the handy circular file and Micki's drawer.

Tuesday night was work night. The halls emptied, janitors swept and dusted, and home-cooked dinners got cold, as the staff darted between 218 and 216 till 8 or 9 o'clock. Deadlines had to be met!

Training to be cosmopolitan journalists, Provi-ers traveled to Champaign for two days to attend ISHPA meetings and to the Chicago Conrad Hilton for two days to participate in the NSPA convention. Since the Provi sponsor, Miss Johnson, affectionately called "Miss J," was president of the Chicago-land Press Guild, the staff hosted its workshop. Covering all the pertinent lectures at these conventions, staff members learned and traded information, experiences, ideas.

MUNCH . . . MUNCH . . . The quietest time in the Provi Office is when the staff is "proof-reading" cokes and "cropping" french fries.

Machine Shop Members Operate New Equipment

"To serve Proviso," was the constant motto of East's Machine Shop Club. This service organization, composed of 14 juniors and seniors, provided mechanical aids for school clubs, faculty, and students. Some of the notable projects completed by club members during the past several years included a football sled used in the north field, a batting cage for the fieldhouse, and candles for the National Honor Society. Members also helped students with physics projects.

Working with steel, aluminum, brass, and plastic, students combined knowledge with ingenuity to produce items ranging from large cabinets to salt and pepper shakers. To make these, members operated modern machinery—lathes, shapers, milling machines, grinders, and a planer, in two up-to-date shops. Pieces of this equipment cost as much as ten thousand dollars each. Thus, learning and practicing, Machine Shop graduates can prepare for top industrial positions.

"Checkmate!" This exultant cry accompanied a sigh of satisfaction as a member of the Proviso East Chess and Checker Club obliterated his opponent.

Under the direction of Mr. Charles De Young and Mr. Thomas Tucker, the club offered a combination of fun and intellectual stimulation to its twenty-three members.

Organized late last year, the club emerged victorious from its first encounter with Proviso West. This year the members faced a challenge in the form of a young chess expert from Evanston. He defied the entire club simultaneously and finished undefeated in every game.

Ending the year, a round-robin tournament within the club pitted members against one another to check progress.

Look what the stork brought to Proviso! This would be an unscientific way of explaining the arrival of the quadruplet Science Club, organized by Mr. Loren Spires.

The first sub-club, led by Mr. Joseph Pasternock, concentrated on biological research. Member activities ranged from studies of antibiotics to animal dissections.

Dr. Edison Kochenderfer directed 25 students in chemical investigations. Many from this group submitted their projects to committees offering scholarships in chemistry.

Mr. Hal Isley guided his section in physics experimentation dealing with sound, heat, light, and energy, while Miss Josephine Foster and her general science division strove for broader understanding of all the phases of modern science.

Ushers Twist While Supervisors Assist

Getting to know one another, poised ushers swatted mosquitoes and battled poison ivy at the Thatcher's Woods picnic. A more serious tone followed at their monthly meetings, as they discussed business, ordered club pins, and amended the constitution concerning demerits.

Amid twisted red and white crepe paper, ushers and dates danced at the "Peppermint Twist." Although January snow banked the windows, a blazing fire cheered the social room. Loosening muscles before exams, couples took twist lessons.

Standing at the auditorium doors watching all the girls go by, Assembly Supervisors directed traffic and organized the passing confusion. Always ready on short-order notice, they helped check coats and serve cokes at the fun nights and other all-school social activities.

Selected in their freshman year, members served their class for all four years. The supervisors of each class elected their own "foreman," who were further co-ordinated by the Student Council chairman, a member of the Council Cabinet.

Cine-ers Add Bird Calls, New Projectors

THREADING A PROJECTOR, shelving movies, and examining film, these boys demonstrate a few of Cine Club's daily responsibilities.

Boasting new equipment and modern techniques, the Cine Club maintained its rating as first in the country. Overhead projection equipment, featuring slides and color-lift pictures with a new electrical rewinder, comprised top advances made this year. In addition, eight new Bell and Howell projectors, new cabinets for the ever-expanding film-strip library, and provision for special previewing of new films included some of the innovations in Room 262.

For the benefit of classes viewing films in Room 266 and for club members, several giant, decorative murals were added to brighten the once bleak projection area.

To bring East a fuller, richer visual education department, the club's sponsor, Mr. C. W. Bills, gave many lectures on the merits of visual education, especially to Proviso's faculty, of which eighty percent now can operate visual equipment. To further advance this concept of visual education, the Cine Club added twenty new films, a machine that cleans old film, and a new, elaborate repair department. The club also printed and revised a visual education handbook that received national recognition.

A new idea to enrich science classes—the use of club-produced tapes of bird songs, frog calls, and the like, coupled with a new library of Christmas music by favorite artists crowned the year's changes. Through the efforts of 27 Cine members, East classes gained valuable audio-visual aids.

Students Play Teachers In Co-op Study Halls

CO-OP BOARD—SITTING: Leonard Brink, Steve Adolphson, Dorothea Hines, and Dottie Hofer. STANDING: Mike Barfield, Arnold Theede, Allen TeBockhorst, Richard Johns, Steven Brunst, Larry Wick, and Carol Lind.

Button, button, who's got the button?!! Cries like this could leak from a clothing class, but most often the big-game, button hunt was in Room 24, where co-op board members were frantically searching for the buttons that identified them as study hall rovers. Armed with these badges as hall passes, rovers checked student-governed study halls, collected interview slips, consulted student chairmen, and performed the other duties necessary for an efficient co-op system.

Helping maintain East's forty co-ops, student chairmen, chosen by the board, also served. With the aid of their own assistants, these chairmen took attendance, signed permits, made announcements, and worked to maintain an atmosphere conducive to effective study.

In this, its fifteenth year, the co-op system claimed a membership of 1000 Provisoites. These student members received admission to the program on the basis of character traits and degree-of-maturity ratings. Teachers and the executive board co-operated on the selections.

East's co-op system deserves much recognition. Under the direction of Miss Lois Robinson, members performed services for their school and themselves. Dealing with a cross-section of people, rovers obtained practical insight into human behavior. The board, chairman, and assistants gained experience in leadership, while study hall members enjoyed valuable practice in self-control, responsibility, and initiative.

GIRLS' LEAGUE OFFICERS, Linda King, Toni Schuster, Pam Johnson, Sande Jevey, and Shari Weiss unpack dolls for the annual doll project.

Hi! Here are the "Scoops" for the year. We surely have had a busy year, filled with parties and service. We've started some traditions and, I suppose, have broken some old ones. We had all new sponsors this year. Mrs. Collins helped us count all of our money; Mrs. Coleman washed brushes and mopped up paint spots; Mrs. Bavender advised us on appealing party menus; Miss Corbett helped keep coat check cards in order; and Mrs. Topinka suggested and approved entertainment. Miss Lee, the jack-of-all-trades, coordinated our efforts, served as counselor, issued the "Lee Doctrine."

At the end of the summer, Big Sisters hurriedly reviewed Proviso's halls and procedures. Dressed in snowy white, the girls battled a maze of questions that first week. They helped the freshmen homeroom teachers with program cards, gym locks, and Blue Books.

In the fall, the ice cream social, "Sugar 'n Spice," sent the girls back into their childhood with children's songs and a fractured fairy tale. At this first tea, the board and officers, dressed as fairy tale characters, introduced themselves, and explained their functions in the Girls' League.

Freshmen girls soon met me again at "Tres Chic," their tea. The Big Sisters planned the party, made the decorations, and staged a special style show of Proviso's own fashions. For the homecoming parade I was right in style with a twelve-foot tall frame and a beautiful Proviso mum.

Dads and daughters dated, dined, and danced at "Dapper Daddies." After dinner, Mr. Langlois, father of four daughters, aptly diagnosed the four stages of womanhood. Brushing up, dads eliminated left feet and recalled Charleston steps to enter the dance contests. Two weeks later, junior and senior girls reviewed Greek letters for the college tea "Gamma Lambda." That afternoon Mr. Hines commented on the place of women in college and in society.

"Ski Tea" started the snowballing of December festivities. All of my helpers, that is the representatives, watched milkweed pods become glittered doves, potatoes change into pine and mistletoe balls, and holly garnish holiday tables. Besides being my helpers, the girls were Santa's representatives, too, as they bought dolls and toys for the children at Cook County Hospital. "Precious Angels" tied the season's activities with a pretty bow. Cool green punch and petit fours, traditional Christmas Tea treats, tempted appetites.

Dragging clubs and dates, couples stubbed their toes on the rocks at the sock hop. Al Ford's Band provided the music for the Proviso cavemen as they danced and bought bows in Bedrock, U.S.A., that is, the field house.

Most activities past, showers of votes brought in the May flowers. Symbolizing four virtues which Girls' League strives to strengthen in all girls, the new officers carried daisies, pansies, lilies, and roses to represent strength, sweetness, purity, and charm. Proviso's girls bloomed in this garden.

MIDST A CANDLELIGHT fantasy of poinsettias and pine boughs, Girls' Leaguers toasted the coming holidays with traditional punch.

Key Club Takes In More Upperclassmen

KEY CLUB OFFICERS: Hugh Muir, vice-president; Gerald Thom, president; Allen TeBockhorst, secretary-treasurer.

Proving to be "better than the av-v-ver-r-rage float," the Key Club's "Yogi Bear" again won the first place trophy at this year's Homecoming parade. The Key Clubbers, under the direction of Mr. Mark Miller and Mr. Donald Parker, started their service year by selling refreshments at the football games. After helping sell Kiwanis Kids' Day peanuts, the boys contributed their share of the profits to CARE.

Besides guiding transfer students to their classes, members aided other Proviso organizations by staging skits as entertainment for parties and dinners. At Christmas, the club collected toys for needy children. Key Clubbers acted as waiters at the National Honor Society banquet and the Girls' League Mother-Daughter banquet. They participated in the Charity Fun Night, and, in the spring, Key Club presented its fourth annual abstract dance. Then, as recreation, the boys played in the inter-Key Club basketball game.

Serving the school as well as the community is the object of Proviso East's chapter of Key Club International. Patterned after the Kiwanis Club, Key Club chose its members on the basis of grade average, teachers' rating, and personal interviews. Expanding in this, its sixth year, Key Club, for the first time, admitted new members from the upperclass ranks as well as sophomores.

Last summer Gerald Thom and Allen TeBockhorst attended the Eighteenth Annual Convention of Key Club International in Philadelphia along with two thousand other top-ranking high school boys. Although having a good time was on their minds, levity did not interfere with the more serious activities of drafting resolutions and amendments.

"JANITORING" after the National Honor Society induction banquet, active Key Club members put East cafeteria back in "apple pie" order.

NHS STEERING COMMITTEE: Dan Hirsén, Linda Rudd, chairman; Betsy Wrobke, and Larry Newkirk.

Character, scholarship, leadership, service . . . "to the upholding of these ideals, I now pledge myself, mind and spirit." With these words, the National Honor Society inducted sixty-nine Proviso seniors.

This year NHS celebrated its twenty-fifth anniversary at the annual initiation banquet in the fall. Miss Ellendore Lampton addressed the inductees and their families while reminiscing of the early years of the society at Proviso, the beginnings of the college library, and the efforts made to obtain scholarships for deserving Provisoites.

The sixty-nine seniors who received election to the society were screened as to their characters, traits, leadership ability, scholarship, and service to the school. Considering all the top scholastically ranking seniors, teachers carefully eliminated all but the highest trait-rating group. Faculty members voted on this group in the early fall, and, finally, the inductees for 1961-62 emerged.

Also this year, because of crowded conditions at Proviso, the old NHS college library moved from room 249 to the main library, thus providing room for Girls' League offices.

Parents, Teachers Urge Library Usage

In the land where silence reigns supreme, fifty Library Pages learned and practiced every phase of super book care. When not slipping, shelving, or searching for books, pages aided teachers and librarians by delivering study hall slips, taking inventory, and processing new books and pamphlets.

During the holidays, the Pages attended a gala Christmas party. They ended the year by receiving awards and recognition for their many services at the annual spring banquet.

Consisting of seventeen members, the Proviso East PTA Board, under President Ray Hofer, worked this year as in every year toward better parent-teacher relations.

The Board met five times to plan the four PTA sessions held in '61-'62. Entertainment at these sessions included guest speakers, student participation, and one two-hour visitation period with teachers in place of the usual hour.

Racket Squad Screams Give Teams Steam

A, B, C, D . . . H, I . . . M, N, O, "P!" Major and minor lettermen proudly wore their letter, the Proviso "P", on jackets and sweaters. Meeting during 'XO' periods, pirate letter-winners discussed and plotted the high-spirited Junior-Senior basketball game and the annual test of skill against youthful energy, the Faculty-Senior game. With the funds from these games and the lettermen's dance, the club purchased forty blue blazers to be worn by East athletes at away contests.

"Winning teams need willing fans . . ." Racket Squad's own motto best expressed its purpose. Working with the cheerleaders, Racket Squaders helped sharpen school loyalty and led student cheering at home and away games. Directed by Mrs. Karen Wyland and a governing board of fourteen, members enjoyed activities which ranged from backing Pirate teams to selling shakeroos at football games. Headlining this year's club innovations were the wearing of white blouses at cheering events and the cutting of club membership to fifty.

East's Student Council Marks Twenty-sixth Year

"Make that several carbon copies and give me one too." Heading the list of school organizations, Student Council sponsored all-school activities, social and service. To keep these activities running smoothly, busy officers and cabinet members double-checked and double-recorded the club's important facts and figures.

Subcommittees and fourteen regular committees carefully wove their threads of responsibility to create a strong fabric of school government. Cool thinking and willing hands were warmly welcomed. From organizing class, Council, and Girls' League elections or approving new club charters to dreaming up a homecoming theme or Valentine's refreshments, energetic Provisoites helped get the job well-done.

Homeroom Representatives Serve East

Shhhhh . . . whisper! Student Council boosted everyone's enthusiasm by sponsoring a "Whisper Day" to conserve voice strength for the pep assembly and homecoming game. Supervising the parade and dance, Council carried the ball from the kickoff to the last "Finishing Touches."

Playing cupid, the cabinet shot glittered arrows to win hearts at the annual Valentine's dance, "Cupid's Capers." Throughout the year, fun nites, spiced with Council capers, catered to everyone, whether they came stag or with a date.

Annual Thanksgiving and Christmas projects for Rankin Cove found Proviso hearts, pockets, and closets ready to give. In November the change contributed during the morning homeroom periods totaled $638. Later Christmas-spirited students rummaged through closets, toted sacks to school, and packed boxes for shipment to Tennessee.

All of the school's major organizations helped Student Council make Charity Week and the Charity Fun Nite successful. Each organization ran its own carnival booth.

Visiting hospitals and making dolls for hospitalized and under-privileged children acquainted Proviso's Future Nurses of America with what later life holds for them.

Throughout the past year these girls viewed slides and films and heard numerous lectures on the duties and rewards of nursing. Tours through nearby hospitals gave the girls the necessary practical knowledge while speakers and pamphlets helped present the nursing theories to them.

On the social side the girls of FNA, working with the assistance of Proviso's two school nurses, Mrs. Florence Akers and Mrs. Ethel Halloran, held a splash party in the spring and their annual Christmas party in December. This party topped off their annual holiday project of stuffing dolls for distribution to children's wards of the local hospital.

Berlin Exchange Student Addresses FTA

Profiting from the experiences of their teachers and frank discussions in "shop talk," the girls of Proviso's chapter of the Future Teachers of America gained practical knowledge about a possible teaching career.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Emily Shockley, languages, and Mr. William Hinds, counseling department, the officers and board of FTA planned the activities for the club and the monthly meeting agendas. These activities included lectures on the merits and disappointments of teaching, from a teacher's point of view, talks by prominent speakers, and teas which served as a social break.

The Christmas Tea that allowed each member to bring her favorite teacher and the exchange student from West Berlin who discussed the European educational system at the February meeting highlighted the special events for FTA.

Future Teachers received a scholarship for the first time last year. The Proviso Education Association awarded fifty dollars to the most promising senior Future Teacher.

Tenth in State, Break 3 School Records

Evanston's defeat of the Pirates erased visions of top honors in the Suburban League. The Bucs, however, ended the season with second place honors. The Proviso gridmen totaled 219 points, while their opponents scored only 81. Although second place was important, this record was not the only accomplishment that highlighted the 1961 season. Len Perkins established a new record, dashing 102 yards on a pass interception at New Trier. Leo Howard broke a thirty-two-year-old record by sprinting 96 yards from scrimmage for a touchdown.

Tallying 193 points, the Bucs broke their own record, established in 1958, for seven conference games. Dave Pasiacki, averaging 8.5 yards, led all Bucs in average gains, as Leo Howard averaged 7.8 yards and Len Perkins 7.0 yards.

"Unpredictable" is how Coach Puplis described his 1961 team. Coaches Jenks, Busse, and Braucher assisted Puplis.

Bucs Win 7 of 8 Games; Custardo is MVP Winner

Displaying excellent offensive and defensive ability, the varsity footballers blanked East Aurora 26-0 in their first game. The whitewash was highlighted by Leo Howard's 80-yard run. The stonewall defense formation left the Tomcats with little chance to score. Fired by their first victory, the Bucs overpowered the Oak Park eleven 15-6 before an excited, rainsoaked crowd.

Continuing their winning streak, Proviso's gridmen crushed Niles East 43-7. Fred Custardo and Dave Pasiacki spearheaded the action with two touchdowns and a field goal in the first half. The Blue and White tallied their fourth victory by routing New Trier 42-18. Spirits soared as the Puplis gridmen trampled Waukegan 55-20. Although the Bulldogs opened with an early lead, they eventually succumbed to the score-hungry Puplis team.

Never allowing the Pirate offensive to gather its strength, Evanston subdued the Bucs by a score of 21-0. Besides suffering defeat, the Bucs lost the services of Dave McIntyre, who suffered injuries as a result of the encounter. Despite the previous setback, the Puplis eleven wasted little time before defeating Morton East 19-0. Dave Pasiacki highlighted the game with touchdown runs of 78 and 92 yards. In the last game of the season the Bucs were again victorious, this time over Highland Park 19-9.

Fred Custardo, rated by his teammates as the most valuable player of the 1961 season, scored five touchdowns, kicked 20 extra points, one field goal, and completed 19 passes. Fred Custardo, Dave Pasiacki, and John Bilenko rated the offensive first All-Suburban honors, while Leonard Perkins, Claude Grace, and Edgar Holley attained positions on the second team defensive squad of the All-Suburban team.

Sophomore Gridders Chalk Up 3-4 Record

Tying Morton East for fourth place in the Suburban League, the sophomore gridgers ended the season with a 3-4 conference tally under the direction of Coaches Barham, Current, Kassel, and Merbitz.

To begin the season, the soph Pirates dropped a non-conference game to East Aurora, 7-0. A week later under threatening skies, Barham's gridmen chalked up their first win of the season over Oak Park. The Bucs' good defensive show and teamwork resulted in a touchdown by Tom Rowe on a pass from Dick Conrad. The Huskies retaliated and scored a one-point lead which was smashed by Bill Clifford's winning touchdown.

The next game brought defeat to the Bucs as the Niles Trojans won out and tallied a touchdown late in the fourth quarter to break a 0-0 tie. The hard-pressed eleven then fell to New Trier 45-7.

Despite fullback Jim McGuire's yardage-gaining maneuvers, Waukegan triumphed 27-7 on the Puppies' home turf. Later, Evanston's determination smashed Barham's squad 35-7. The Baby Bucs emerged victorious over Morton East 19-12, then took Highland Park 12-7.

In the Morton East game, Gerald Sterling, receiving Dick Orlandino's 25-yard pass, streaked down to the end zone for the winning touchtown to give Proviso a 19-12 victory.

With a 4-2 record for the season, the Junior Varsity squad placed second in the Suburban League.

The team lost the two games to Oak Park and Evanston. Proviso was leading after three quarters, but Evanston won in the final quarter 12-7. They lost to Oak Park 26 to 0. Coached by Mr. Dan Braucher and Mr. Gordon Busse, the team scored 104 points to its opponents 38.

All of Proviso's victories were shutouts. Proviso defeated Highland Park on a forfeit, shutout Sheeres 26 to nothing, Elgin 25 to nothing, and in the final game of the season, beat Morton East 38 to nothing.

The starting backfield of Bosco at quarterback, Rumpf and Lewis at halfback, and Pizzoferrato at fullback accounted for ten of the touchdowns that Proviso scored this season. Rush and McLean at tackle, Routen and Petruzzi at end, and Brink and Berletich at guard, stood out defensively.

Freshmen Cop Sixth in Suburban League

Under Coaches Don Parker and James Brown, the freshmen A squad finished the season with a record of 2 wins, 2 losses, and a tie for sixth place in the league.

The Baby Bucs started their season with a 0-7 loss to Oak Park, followed by a win over Niles East 19-0. They tied Waukegan in a 13-13 game and lost to Evanston by a 14-21 score. A win over Morton East 14-7 and a final season loss to Highland Park 26-40 completed the season. For the first time in football history, the frosh eligibility was handled the same as the Varsity's by grade average.

Proviso frosh B gridders, coached by Mr. Louis Slimmer and Mr. S. O. Storby, started their season triumphantly by defeating Oak Park 14-0 and Niles 7-0. They dropped the next four games starting with New Trier 13-25, then lost to Waukegan 7-13, to Evanston 13-9, and to Morton East 7-20 to complete the season with 2-4-0 record. The B squad finished fifth in the Suburban League.

The C squad played only a limited schedule, but every boy on the squad got a chance to play. They played their two games with Oak Park, winning the first and tying the second.

FRESHMEN FOOTBALL, B AND C SQUADS — FRONT ROW: Donald Whelpley, Dudley Brewton, William Dwainen, Dominic Bonavolonta, Pat Nelson, Ed Everett, Larry Guerine, Peter Stein, John Rozanski, Cal Gord, Lee Hinrichs, and Chuck Miller. ## Harriers End Season in Sixth Place

Proviso East's Varsity Cross Country runners, coached by Mr. Kenneth Murphy, finished their season by tying for sixth place in the Suburban League.

The Varsity Bucs dropped the first three meets to Waukegan, Evanston and Highland Park before beating Morton East, 21-34. Losing the next three meets to Oak Park, New Trier and Niles East, the Proviso Harriers finished the poor year with a 1-6 record. In district competition the Bucs turned in a tenth place out of twenty-two teams. The most outstanding senior harriers were John Buesing and John Tiefenthal. Other important varsity cross countrymen were Mike Armer and Harold Logan, both juniors.

Under Coach Ken Murphy, the Frosh-Soph team romped into second place in the Suburban League with a 6-1 record, losing only to Oak Park.

The sophs trod over Waukegan, Evanston, Highland Park, Morton East, New Trier, and Niles East. The sophs were one of the better teams, record wise, averaging over 15 points more than their opponents.

The year's most important victory came at the Riverside-Brookfield Invitational meet when Proviso came in first over six other teams.

Outstanding soph runners were Dwayne Oklepek, John Klein, Bob Davis, and Bill Konigsfeld. Outstanding frosh harriers were Tom Liebing, Bob Heck, and George Longhurst.

GRINDING DOWN the forest-fringed cross country trail, John Buesing displays the form which earned him Most Valuable Player election.

New Trier Shatters

Balance and rebounding technique distinguished the Proviso East Varsity basketball squad. Winning on their defense, the Bucs exhibited strong teamwork.

The Varsity cagers started the season by outscoring Elgin and Aurora West in non-league encounters but let the Morton East Mustangs slip by to win the first league competition. Scoring 17 points, Leo Howard copped the scoring honors for the game. After the initial shock of the first loss subsided, the Pirate quintet moved on to subdue the Highland Park Giants and the Oak Park Huskies in rapid succession. In the DeKalb tournament, Belvidere stunned the Bucs with a 61-55 defeat; however, the Pirates soon recovered with victories over Aurora West and Shabbona.

Resuming league play, the Millikinmen were quick to continue their winning streak by whipping New Trier in a double over-time dispute. With less than 30 seconds remaining in the game, Mike Murphy sank two clutch free throws to clinch the 56-54 victory. The Pirate cagers then invaded Niles East and defeated the Trojans on their own court with a close 39-36 encounter. Waukegan, Evanston, Morton East, Highland Park, and Oak Park fell victim to the Buc agile point-scoring tactics. Center Mike Murphy and Jim Maness were consistent high-scorers for the Pirate Varsity team.

The surging cagers' nine-game winning streak was halted when the Blue-and-White clashed with a strong New Trier squad. The 61-55 loss seemed to give a subtle hint of events to come. Even though the Buccaneers rolled over Niles East, crushing them by 24 points, the Waukegan and Evanston cagers delivered heart-breaking defeats to Proviso and shattered school hopes for the Suburban League championship. Despite the return of John Stinson who was on the bench for four games with an injured leg, the Pirates could not outscore the Evanston Wildkits and were defeated in the last game of the season.

In the Willowbrook Regional, Proviso dumped Riverside-Brookfield, 75-53, but lost to Lyons of La Grange. This loss ended Proviso's bid for the State Crown. The Pirates finished the season with a total of 812 points for an average of 58 points per game. Scoring 138 points in 20 games, Buc center, Mike Murphy, copped most valuable player and highscoring honors. Jim Maness was second with 100 points.

Gaining third place, the Sophomore basketball quintet concluded a successful season under the reign of Coach John Tiefenthal. The Baby Buc yearlings garnered third in the Suburban League, sporting a 10-4 won-loss slate, while they boasted a 12-4 overall record.

Excellent defensive play proved to be a prime factor in their Blue-and-White first division finish. The Baby Bucs allowed their opponents only 470 points in all fourteen games, an average of 33.6 points a game. The Sophomore offensive machine put through a total of 585 points for an average of 41.8 markers per game.

John Hansen captured the individual scoring title by pouring through a season total of 171 points or an average of 12.2 markers a game. Flashy guard, Dick Conrad, accounted for 134 of the Pirate's total, followed by J. D. Smith with 72; Louis Yates, 67; and Roscoe Watkins, 42.

Hansen also led the Bucs in rebounding, hauling down a total of 82. Smith grabbed 69 while Watson pulled in 36.

JV's Tie for First in Suburban League

Top basketball honors in this year's Suburban League went to the Proviso East and Waukegan Junior Varsity cagers. Both teams dropped only two contests while running up ten victories. In other non-conference games, the Pirate quintet, under the vigilance of Coach Dan Braucher, fell only to Leyden, Lyons, and York.

Eddie Burton with 138 points captured the Junior Varsity scoring honors while Rich Johns put through 125. Terry Waldersen, the most improved player on the team, sank 77 points, and John Webb tallied 70 markers.

Highlights of the season included the exciting victory over Waukegan which put the Jayvees in a tie with the Bulldogs in league standings. In another breath-taker, East cagers squeaked by New Trier with a 44-41 score.

Rich Johns, Terry Waldersen, Bobby Mays, Dan Goldman, Eddie Burton, and Art Burrell headed the Jayvee roster.

Frosh A Tie Waukegan for League Lead

Tying for first place with Waukegan in the Suburban League, the Freshman A basketball team won ten games while losing only two. Coached by Mr. Robert Maples, the team averaged 47 points against their opponents' 49. Al Nuness led the squad in scoring, sinking an average of thirteen points per game for a total of 164 during the season.

Mr. Richard Holtz tutored the Freshman B team through a season of eight wins and four losses to take third place in their league. The Pirate Frosh totaled 600 points against their opponents' 455. Ron Gwin led the Baby Bucs by scoring 179 points in 12 games. Both frosh A and B teams scored approximately 55 percent of all their attempted free throws.

East varsity gymnasts copped the state crown! A strong Pirate gymnastic team walked off with first place in the state meet at Willowbrook this year, scoring  $61\frac{1}{2}$  points, 25 points over the second-ranked school. Gymnast captain, Bob Ensalaco, captured 35 points in this meet.

Buc gymnasts and their rivals, the New Trier Indians, finished the season in a tie for the Suburban League Championship. Sparking this top finish were two gymnasts, Bob Ensalaco and Vince Trobbiani. Ensalaco ended the year as high-point man in the league, compiling a total of 273 points. He won the all-around championship at district competition while Pirate Trobbiani placed tenth in that event.

Baby Bucs Place Fourth In Suburban Competition

Frosh-soph gymnasts finished their '61-'62 season by capturing fourth place honors in the Suburban League. Milan O'Bradovich, sophomore, sparked the frosh-soph squad by scoring 160 points for the season.

The big event for the freshman team was the Annual Hinsdale Invitational Tournament in which the Pirates placed third. Gymnasts captured individual honors: John Marshall placed first on the trampoline and second in tumbling, Sam Romano took second on the still rings, and Al D'Angelo scored fifth on the parallel bars. These freshman performers will be the nucleus of the '63 frosh-soph squad.

Varsity Swimmers Break School Records

Varsity swim boasted an array of talent, which accounted for the high standings of the Pirate mermen in competition. The team placed third in the Suburban League and fifth in the State Finals. In the district meets, Coach Don Watson's swimmers were pulled under only by Evanston.

Despite stiff competition, several of the team members took high honors. Hugh Muir set four new school records, all of them in the freestyle classification. He swam the 50-, 100-, and 200-yard races in 24.2, 53.0, and 1:57.4 respectively. He conquered the 400-yard freestyle in 4:18.9.

George Goff, with his 54.9 time on the 100-yard backstroke, established not only a new school record but also the new state mark. He holds both the indoor and outdoor National AAU records for the 100-yard backstroke. Competitively rated against other high school swimmers, George was a member of the High School All-American Swim Team.

Richard Hoeschele, Carl Johansson, George Goff, and Hugh Muir swam the 200-yard freestyle relay in 1:36.9, while George Goff, Howard Brown, Gary Renton, and Hugh Muir duplicated the freestyle record in the medley relay.

Carl Johansson placed fifth in the 50-yard freestyle, upping that to third in the 100-yard freestyle. Howard Brown excelled in the 100-yard breaststroke. He placed third in the Riverside-Brookfield Invitational Meet, third in district contest, and fifth in Suburban League competition.

GEORGE GOFF, backstroke champion, rates as most valuable merman of '62.

Larry Youngsteadt took sixth in the Riverside-Brookfield and Suburban Leagues while placing fourth in the district. Gary Renton achieved a fifth-place honor in the district. Dennis Chase's fifth and sixth place ratings for the 200-yard individual medley crowned the team's accomplishments.

The '61-'62 combination of coach, team, co-operation, and spirit copped 11 wins and lost only to Rockford East, Hinsdale, New Trier, and Evanston.

Frosh-Soph swimmers lost many of their team mates to the Varsity squad. Thus weakened, they finished last in the Suburban League with a board score of 0-7.

Carl Hostetler left to produce Varsity school records of 4:18.9 for the 400-yard freestyle and 2:21.4 for the individual medley. Richard Hoeschele earned a 25.4 time for his 50-yard freestyle, while Gary Marine took sixth place in the District for his 400-yard freestyle.

The remaining team tallied nine points in the League to take eighth place. Coach Don Watson looks forward to a better record and representation for the team in the 1963 season.

JV wrestlers copped third place in the Suburban League Meet this year with a 4-3 win-loss record. The Bucs, guided by Coach Howard Current, claimed victories over Niles East, Evanston, Morton East, and Leyden East, bowing only to Oak Park, Waukegan, and La Grange.

The end of the 1961-62 season marked a 7-0 rating for Steve Brunst, who romped home with a perfect record.

Sophomore matmen, under the direction of Coach Charles Kassel, grappled their way to a 5-2 record for the conference games and a 10-4 rating for non-conference competition. In the conference meets, the Pirate wrestlers fell only to Waukegan, 32-14, and Morton East, 22-18, while trouncing victoriously over Highland Park, Niles East, Oak Park, New Trier, and Evanston. Non-conference losses went to Leyden, Oak Lawn, La Grange, and Morton East.

Under the coaching of Lou Slimmer, the Frosh wrestlers ended the season posting an impressive 7-1 win-loss slate. The Frosh matmen dropped only one of their meets with a 14-23 score to Waukegan. During this season the Baby Bucs chalked up victories over West Leyden, 32-23; La Grange, 49-4; Oak Park, 30-14; and Morton East, 39-11, a top finish.

Linksmen Set Out to Improve Record

Undaunted by last year's defeats, seven of last year's lettermen and twenty-six new members reported for practice.

Coach Lloyd Lundberg's Varsity and frosh-soph golf teams ran "in the rough" most of the '61 season; the varsity finished contest play with a 0-11 win-loss slate. Squads from York, Elmwood Park, Riverside-Brookfield, Oak Park, New Trier, Morton, Niles, Waukegan, Joliet, Evanston, and Highland Park issued the defeats.

In their competition, frosh-soph linkers fared a little better with a 1-10 tally. These Baby Bucs out-stroked Elmwood Park in their second league encounter last year. Thirteen of the forty-three original varsity starters finished the year. Of these, only four had played the previous season.

Varsity Trackmen Tie For Third in League

East's Varsity Thinclads finished the indoor season with a third place tie in the Suburban League for this year. The Pirates triumphed over Morton West, 66-34; Morton East, 63½-21½; Glenbard West, 63½-40; and Evanston, 61-47. The Varsity trackmen also participated in the Morton East Relays (second), Evanston Relays (fifth), Oak Park Relays (eleventh), West Suburban Meet (seventh), and the Big Ten Meet (fifth).

This year Proviso sponsored its First Annual Pirate Relays late in April. LaGrange, Morton East, Morton West, Oak Park, Proviso West, and Proviso East ran in this meet. During the 1961 indoor-outdoor season, varsity trackmen suffered through the dual meets but did better in the quadrangular meets and the school-sponsored relays. Proviso also sent five Pirates as qualifiers in state competition. These included James Carswell, 100-yard dash; Walter Stinson, 220-yard dash; Clarence Jordan, broad jump; Charles Horton, high jump; and Bruce Miller, mile run. "Doc" Horton took fourth place with a 6'2½" high jump.

Sophomore thinclads concluded this year's indoor track season as Suburban League champs. Returning soph numeral-winners and new freshmen sparked East's first-division finish. Baby Bucs trounced over Morton West, 58½-41½; Morton East, 60½-36½; Glenbard West, 68½-28; Maine East, 57-43; Bloom Township, 68½-37½; and Highland Park, 68½-28½.

Working with eighty boys, Donald Green molded this strong Frosh-Soph team. Assisting him were coaches Joseph Pasternock, Robert Polson, and Gordon Busse.

Ending the 1962 indoor season with a 4-3 win-loss record, Frosh thinclads triumphed over Morton East, 51-49; Glenbard West, 51-15 and 57-39; and Maine East, 57-49. They fell to Morton West, 65-35 and 62½-37½, and Oak Park, 60-40. Frosh trackmen participated in the Morton West Invitational and grabbed fourth place in a nine-team field.

Pirate Pitching Brings District Win

Pitching a no-hit shut-out, Jim Frank led the '61 Pirates to a 3-0 victory over Elmwood Park to take the District Championship. In the first game of that district, the varsity baseballers held Oak Park to three hits, winning 1-0. Richard Wauer was named most valuable player in 1961.

Prospects for a game-winning 1962 Varsity season seem excellent as Coach John Tiefenthal prepares his veteran squad. Returning lettermen, Mike Barfield, Fred Custardo, Terry Ekberg, Jim Frank, Dave Gehr, Russ Hays, Bill Jackson, Jim Maness, John Tiefenthal, and Leonard Perkins combine to oppose any league challenger.

Pirate batsmen displayed effective hitting ability in their first non-conference game of the '62 season as they rolled over Lyons 14-0. The combined efforts of hurlers Denis, Frank, and DiFrancesco held the Lyons' nine scoreless. Strong Pirate offense should bring many Proviso victories.

Sophs Tie for Lead In Suburban League

Tying New Trier, Niles, and Oak Park for first place in the Suburban League, the sophomore baseball team, under Coach Andy Puplis's tutelage, ran up a 9-4 record in 1961.

With a 14-2 win over Elmwood Park the sophomores began their 1962 season. Ellis Kendricks provided the year's first run by hitting a three-bagger with a man on base. The triple-threat pitchers include Bill Homan, Greg Bennett, and Al Nuness. Sophomore hitting strength lies in Bennett, Alan Hathaway, Chuck E. Miller, Kendricks, and Ron Zito.

During the 1961 season the freshmen had a league record of 7 wins and 3 losses.

The Baby Bucs, coached by Mr. Holtz, started their '62 season with 30 players and 4 managers. Coach Holtz stated: "The team is extremely strong defensively." This strength lies in Tim Lane, first base; Mike Green, short stop; and Ed Howard, Bill Farrell, and Gene Scavone in the field.

Cheerleaders Welcome Sponsor at Fall Party

Veterans of hoarse voices and pre-game jitters, eight varsity cheerleaders and a "freshman" sophomore squad returned this year to fill East cheerleading ranks. Carolyn Strodztz, captain, and the other girls immediately popped into the planning and practicing started during the summer.

Early on the year's agenda was a welcoming party for their new cheerleading sponsor, Miss Simone Walus. Miss Walus, a member of the Girls' PE staff, was graduated from the University of Illinois, Champaign, last spring.

Eager to gain cheering perfection, the varsity and sophomore cheerleaders traveled to Bloom Township High School for a training clinic conducted by Miss Hess, the head of a nation-wide cheerleading organization.

Returning home bursting with ideas, the cheerleaders jumped into a heavy schedule of pep assemblies, games, and post-game pajama parties. Culmination of the year's events came in March when the senior varsity members, sporting costumes crowned with beatnik wigs and skin-diving flippers, sparked the senior team to their first win over the faculty cagers in the past three years.

"Yeah, team . . . let's hear it!" In March, training sessions for next year's cheerleaders began rocking East's rafters after school. Sophomore cheerleaders and semifinalists from 1961 brushed into winning form to compete for the varsity roster. At a special six-week clinic, freshman and sophomore girls learned basic cheers and techniques to prepare for sophomore try-outs. New members were screened as to their knowledge of sports determined by a written examination, their cheerleading ability as indicated by individual performance, and their character as shown in a private interview. In May, the '63 varsity and sophomore squads emerged.

SUMMONING ALL of Proviso's spirit, Varsity Cheerleading Captain Carolyn Strodztz gives the basketball a final push through East's basket.

GAA Activities Polish Muscles, Manners

Volleying their time between athletic and social events, GAA members developed poise and grace on both sides of the net. Coaching began at September's annual Freshman Funday. With appetites bated by recreation, active and prospective members rotated to eat the refreshments.

Before entering the spook house at the Halloween party, daring, yet cautious members bought life insurance. Although no one collected any money from that company, the zaniest-costumed girls did collect prizes for their imaginative creations. The spirit of giving moved active members to give their time to put the social room in a festive mood for the holiday season. Caught in a blizzard of snowflakes and carolers, "Christmas Belles" filled the transformed room for the party. Dreaming of the Eiffel Tower and of sidewalk cafes, girls turned-out for the turn-about dance, "Evening in Paris." Couples, intoxicated by French perfumes, danced to the music of the Corvairs.

Time ticked by carelessly, bringing the close of the year all too rapidly. Although it was still not quite over, mothers and daughters gathered for the installation of officers and managers at the May banquet. The annual GAA eighth grade get-together provided a program of recreation and orientation to end the year by helping incoming freshmen.

Sport activities filled many after-school hours. Ranging from fencing to speedball in the fall and from badminton to bowling in the winter, they answered girl's desires for variety. Participation in playdays, swim meets, and Postal Archery, Bowling, and Basketball tournaments developed their physical agility and their sportsmanship. Those whose skill deserved merit most received awards at the spring banquet.

Future PE Majors Gain Expert Training

Tttwweett! . . . To the sound of a leader's whistle, girls' PE classes lined up for warm-up exercises. Supervising girls in exercise drills to skilled sports, well-trained PE leaders gave gym teachers needed assistance.

East initiated its Leaders' Class both to improve the instructor-student ratio and to train girls displaying an interest in physical education as a career. Stressing quality over quantity, trainee groups were screened to eighteen members. Each new leaders' class is limited to sophomore girls with good athletic and academic grade averages and recommendations from several faculty members.

Meeting four times a week as a regular gym class, trainees learned the skills, techniques, and rules of the girls' sports offered at Proviso and also the care and correct use of athletic equipment. In addition, girls mastered basic points of organization, project planning, and group psychology. The year's rigorous training schedule produced girls equal to the many responsibilities given to these graduate leaders.

GIRL ASTRONAUT from Cape Canaveral? . . . Actually Michele Moliere demonstrates proper trampoline "lift off" technique for fellow leaders.

OOPS! TRAINEES shake with laughter as a human pyramid crumbles to the ground.

After sophomore year's "rehearsing," graduates stepped into their roles as leaders. "Freshman" junior assistants took over underclassman girls' groups, while senior leaders assisted in the junior and senior gym classes. Always busy, PE leaders performed innumerable "odd jobs" for the department. They not only assisted the teachers in governing and guiding their classes, but also ran errands and advised instructors on individual student progress. They kept equipment and locker rooms in good order. Thus, through constant doing and learning, leaders prepared for PE positions.

Class of '65 Breaks Enrollment Records

FRESHMEN CANDIDATES CONSULT Mr. Glenn Isley, elections advisor, and John Gibson, committee chairman, on campaign procedures.

Trudging upward on the ladder of education,
 2400 new feet mounted Proviso stairs.
 Greeted by Big Sisters, who seemed to know all the answers,
 And supplied with trusty blue books,
 Freshmen mastered halls, stairways, and room numbers.
 Endless athletic, service, and social outlets
 Welcomed frosh time and energy as
 A, B, and C squads learned the ropes to challenge opponents;
 Pages sorted, slipped, and shelved books; and
 Big Sisters planned and produced, "Tres Chic."
 Models and their dates, dressed in typical East fashions, Cued the audience as to what is acceptable to wear, when.
 Swinging into busy Proviso ways,
 Fun Nights, Homecoming activities, elections, and exams
 Merged the class of '65 with upperclassmen.
 Guided by their representatives, officers, and sponsor,
 The May class party aired spring fevers
 And strengthened bonds of friendship and class spirit.
 The first green year passed,
 Old Frosh dreamed-up schemes to tease new freshmen.

FRESHMAN CLASS OFFICERS: Jenifer Neuman, treasurer; Jack Schultz, president; Faune Heard, secretary; and William Jordan, vice-president.

SOPHOMORE CLASS OFFICERS—Karen Knudson, president; Janet Orlandino, treasurer; and Paula Credity, secretary.

Losses taken in easy stride . . .

Sophomores both bubbled and brooded through Proviso halls.
Notebooks boasted protractors instead of blue books,
While the vice-president inherited the president's duties.

A year's experience cured squeamish nerves
In social life, student-teacher relations, and frog dissection.
Literary greats seized young minds

As formal high school grammar sessions ceased and sophs
Stabbed at Shakespeare, unwove Eliot, and battled Tennyson.
Unchained ingenuity took pride in its inventions
To bracket required memory passages.

Long evening practices produced
Gritted squads fit to plague league opponents and Skilled cheerleaders expert in yelling and confetti dodging.
Nourished on french fries, Pepsi's, and chewing gum,
Industrious members plotted dates and decorations
For the May class dance.

Daydreaming characterized spring fever in study halls,
Yet, time forced torrents of exams and deadlines
To crowd out sleep, TV, and phonograph jam sessions.

Class of '63 Outgrows Sophomoritis

DRAWN BY A MODEL T, "Hold That Line," the junior class float, held its own in the homecoming parade to capture the second-place award.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS—SEATED: Dick Rush, president; and Karen Stebel, vice-president. STANDING: Mr. Ray, sponsor; Joan Sharman, treasurer; and Cynthia Sybilla, secretary.

Busy Proviso days slipped by . . .
 As juniors crossed the mid-bridge of high school life.
 Papers, mimeographed and stapled, challenged library
 Resources, student patience, and refrigerator capacities.
 Stained with pen doodles, orange juice, and pizza grease,
 They found their final resting places.
 Strategy-minded, after dissecting the Battle of Bunker Hill,
 Juniors backed their homecoming float, "Hold That Line," Telephoned their second prize award,
 And out-basketed the seniors 54-49 in their annual battle.
 Fantasy in White, the December ball,
 Soothed waning spirits, wearied brains, weekday humdrums.
 Billowed skirts and white carnations offset black suits
 As a glitter-dusted forest accents silhouetted trees.
 Lugging home dog-eared, pencil-scarred books,
 Juniors faced exams, vacations, and frustrations.
 As fingers touched treasured stars,
 Brain cells conjured new dreams, and pencils filled out
 Election applications, program cards, and senior ring orders.

Seniors Learn Secret of True Scholars

Reduced, picked-over, sorted, and scrutinized,
 Seniors held one-way tickets to the future.
 It seems like yesterday:
 Freshman Day, sophomortitis, and U.S. history finals.
 Yet they are all past—living only as Memories to haunt the mind.
 Gone too, is this year, the last year.
 Dried mums, crushed bows, and stringy pompoms
 Lie forgotten in scrap-books or deep in dusty drawers.
 Minute-photos of the carrot-munching rabbit
 Look faded, curled, and streaked.
 Evanston indigestion soon ceased and his hurt decreased.
 Lit books tolled the death knell, not only for Beowulf, Macbeth, and Darnay; but also for seniors,
 Faced with comprehensive, compulsory, and confusing exams.

ACT, SAT, CEEP, PSAT, NMSQT, WUPZ . . .
 Fed on alphabets, "Alpha-Bits," and vocabulary lists,
 Seniors kept on their toes to score the highest.
 Dusting off forgotten volumes, temporary "book-worms"
 Ate their way through review sheets and midnight snacks
 To prepare for important seventh semester finals.
 "Senior Surprise" reinflated deflated spirits
 And crested mounting money for "Ebb Tide."
 Miles of net billowing in frilly gowns and rolling waves
 Created a filmy world of deep-sea fantasia.
 Sparkling bubbles, past reflections, flickered and popped
 As class day ceremonies recalled, reenacted, and projected.
 Graduation gave birth to new tomorrows . . . broad horizons
 As Proviso moved onward, onward . . . never backward . . .
 Only leaving memories to haunt the heart.

Proud Provi Staff Boasts Big Thank You

Remember the night when—
 When the editorships were announced
 Surprise, happiness, parent approval
 When the job began—seemingly endless and insurmountable
 Selecting the theme—
 It's trite, over-used, old-fashioned. I don't like it!
 Mr. Norman Semmelroth's print lesson
 On the dozens of dozens of types of types
 Offered by the Record Printing and Advertising Company
 Boldface, Italic, Bodoni, Baskerville, and Futura.
 The hot debate over the colors to send to the senior senate
 Tangerine and gold, plum and blue, mint and primrose
 When we lost 250 junior names, monitor pix, swim records
 When we sorted individual pictures,
 Checked senior activities, and alphabetized the index
 When we moved four pages from the end to the beginning,
 Confusing page numbers, copy blocks, picture positions,
 Joe, Frank, the staff, and the index
 When all after school appointments were cancelled
 And our hero, Lennie Novak of Root Studio,
 Came with camera in hand to find no one to shoot.

Remember the night when we ate by candlelight at Christmas,
 Sailed a three-foot airplane of an old Pageant,
 Played basketball, using a wadded bag and human hoops,
 When we couldn't find a number, a name, or an ink
 Miss Brooks, Miss Thompson, Mr. Ernest helped us think
 While the telephone played the important link,
 When the ceiling leaked and we collected rain
 In waste paper baskets, provided by John and Pete
 When the layout was set, pictures taken, but wouldn't fit
 Mr. Larry Wells of Associates Engraving Company
 Straightened the mess with a flip, or is it a flop!
 When the new cabinets—freshly stacked with yearbooks
 Fell on Miss J. . . . err. rr. Miss Eleanor Johnson, our sponsor
 She deserved a crown—but not quite in that fashion—
 For all of the guidance, direction, and helpful suggestion
 An award as best widow-killer, line-filler,
 Fudge-maker, flower-arranger, and problem-solver
 When the end came—quiet, unheralded
 The last name checked, the last copy sent
 The envelope closed, the office closed, the year closed
 As the '62 book opened . . . . . memories.

AND SO SANDE JEVEY shelves the '62 Provi as Proviso moves onward.

my dearest Mary
I love, love, love,
you madly, & you don't marry me I'll kill myself I just kidded
you. But all luck in the world is in the mind.

Dear Mary, I've had fun,
tremendous fun being in
choir with people like you.
May up your talents as an actress and you'll go far. Good luck always,
"Gynne"
Lohanen

Mary,
We just got done
with a swell history exam.
Thank you for your help. I really need it. See you next year
as a senior. Lots o' luck
Bob O'Kredsen

Love ya much,
Karen S.

Dear Mary,
I can't start talking about the fun we've had this past year - - - Next year, we'll have to make a continuation on our choir pranks. Good Luck, Success, and Happiness in everything you do in future years. Love Ya' + will miss you this summer - - - keep up your wonderful voice,
Gail

Harry,
We sure have had some
rough times in lunch.
Lots of Luck.

Dear Mary
 You were very much from Monday. I hope to see you next year.
 Love you;
 Mary

Dear Mary

"Something nice" - you asked me to! Really, tho, you're... well... really

... uh ... a great ...
well ... uh It's been

uh nice uh being in cruddy classes with you.

~~He in some~~ I hope we'll be in some more cruddy classes

together next year
I'm not a BROWD! (How else
do I get straight 3's?)

Love, Sally

Dear Mary,

It was nice being
in homeroom with you freshman and sophomore years. I hope that we will be in the same senior homeroom
Sandy Maguire

Dear Mary.
ever could you
panic forget the
the zoo we had at sweet as you stay at Dore ya are as Annie

Dear Mary,
Best wishes
in the years to come
Dore ya

Dear Mary

I'm still recuperating
from the P.Y. party
I probably will be

for the next three months (until school starts again). I think we should go to see
our relatives at the zoo again. I'll probably be lucky to see you around. I know you are and that you'll be at the late school
you next year.

Good Luck next year and always.

Rosie

It's been lots of fun having you in
Creative Writing (HA)
(Hows that for something nicel.) Lots of luck in everything (Hows that for originally)

your Brother
Tom
